

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

The objective of the study is to find out the utilization of YouTube by English teacher in online learning. As the result, it is proved by the steps in using a learning video of Youtube used by the teacher that were almost the same with the theory that the research uses. In addition, by the utilization of YouTube as a learning medium, teacher can easily provide material to students with learning videos on YouTube related to the material to be given, it also make the students more active and interested during learning process.

B. Suggestion

Based on the results of this study, suggestions that can be given regarding the use of Youtube in online learning systems are as follows:

1. To the English teacher to always improve their competence in utilizing YouTube as a learning media and using YouTube as a learning media that can help increase students' motivation in learning English.
2. The need for increased support for facilities and infrastructure for the use of ICT in schools, so that the readiness to learn to utilizing Youtube can be maximized and not experience obstacles that hinder the online learning process.

3. For other researcher to be able to study further about this research because this research is still far from perfection. However, due to the limitations of the researcher's knowledge, this research can be used as a reference for further research.
